MUSIC WEEK

For 19 years National Music Week observance has been the means of developing a greater appreciation of music. It has stimulated interest in music on the part of musicians as well as those who have no talent along this line. In many places throughout the country it has been accepted as wholeheartedly by the latter group as by those who have been encouraged to develop their talents. The longing to sing or play some instrument seems to be inherent in many who never can become musicians. On the other hand many who have talent must be encouraged, even urged to develop it.

Music is good for the soul is an old saying. Music maintains morale was the slogan of this year's National Music Week. It means the same thing and it was particularly appropriate in this year of war nerves. More music weeks throughout the year would serve a good purpose.

Salem's four music clubs have been doing a great deal of good in this city which for so many years lacked an ear for music. Perhaps Salem is not as much of a music-loving center as many other communities, but its appreciation of the work of these clubs is not lacking. Under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Dyball as chairman, they presented programs throughout National Music Week which gave ample evidence of their progress. And for their fine work even those of us who cannot "carry a tune" or play a mouth organ applaud.

POPPY DAY

Poppy day, to be observed in Salem and throughout the country next Saturday, is a reminder that those who served in the first World war are not forgotten in these days when other young men are fighting Uncle Sam's battles. Every year just before Memorial day the poppies, reminiscent of Flanders field, are sold by American Legion members and women of the auxiliary as well as by Veterans of Foreign Wars and their auxiliary. Money thus raised is used for welfare work among disabled veterans of both organizations.

Throughout the years both organizations have kept up this welfare work, aided largely by the sale of poppies, and the public, realizing the worthiness of the cause, has responded nobly. To wear a poppy next Saturday is to show loyalty and devotion to those who did their bit 24 years ago. Buy a Vets poppy and a Legion poppy and wear both. It's a small contribution for the amount of good it does you as well as disabled veterans.

SEATTLE PERFORMS A TRICK

There may have been other cases, but Seattle is the first city to make a widely remarked request for non-war residents to move away for the duration. The please-go invitation from the city's defense commission, county commissioners and county welfare board to "useless" persons marks some kind of a new low in civic shortsightedness. Every old person, every unemployed person, every retired person and all others specified by Seattle authorities as being persona non grata in Seattle for the duration will remember the insult given to them in the stress of wartime.

It is possible that Seattle may be unable to make room for war workers in no other way than to evacuate residents whose only reason for living there is the fact it's their home. If it is possible, Seattle's best procedure would be to take every precaution possible to keep the claim that persons unable to aid war production through no fault of their own should become refugees from becoming a public issue. Only one decision is possible. Seattle has punched itself in the nose.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGE

Gasoline rationing officials in eastern states are having serious trouble with "special privilege" motorists. When the news of the senate's 66 to 2 refusal to abandon special privilege as official congressional policy leads down to the middle levels of public consciousness the real trouble will start.

The ordinary motorist in this country has just as much use for his automobile as the ordinary senator or representative—and in many cases a lot more. In some cases, he may get an unlimited rationing card, but he does not get it under blanket privilege, which is what an overwhelming majority of senators have voted to uphold.

A corporal's guard of blabbermouths has been yelling that the press, insofar as it has helped to make the public aware of this latest congressional antic, is helping the Axis by undermining legislative prestige. They have forgotten that the only prestige a legislator has is derived from the fact his constituents have confidence in him—and that every time a congressman does something to destroy confidence in his democratic principles his prestige automatically is destroyed. It is the duty of the press to record what happens, and what has happened is that the U. S. senate has pulled a boner.

More often than not the grand strategy of the war has proved too grand for average observers to comprehend. But the apparent grand strategy of the spring campaign on Germany's eastern front is clear as a picture.

The Russians knew that Hitler would launch a spring offensive; everybody else knew it. They knew it would be launched at their expense; everybody else knew that, too. So, on the theory that attack is the best defense, they prepared to launch a spring offensive of their own. And on the theory that it is better to be safe than sorry, they let Hitler launch his first.

Hitler chose the Crimea, where he could drive the Russians eastward into the Kerch peninsula. The Russians chose the vicinity of Kharkov. When Hitler started east toward Kerch, they started west toward Kharkov. If they aren't stopped they may cut off the Nazi supply lines. On the other hand, if the Germans aren't stopped, they may get to the Caucasus oil, which would be the equivalent of cutting off the Russian supply lines.

It's a campaign that has the beauty of simplicity. Any child can understand it, which seems to prove conclusively that it must not be that way at all. If the master minds ever did things that children could understand, they wouldn't be master minds any more.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, May 20

A GENERALLY propitious and pleasant state of affairs is found in this day's astrological chart, this happy condition pervading and prospering all the affairs. An element of surprise or the unforeseen may be found in gains and benefits which may come from many directions and interests. This may mean promotion, advancement, tokens of preferment and esteem from superiors, relatives or those in influential places. Property and possessions should increase and investments prosper.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of advancement, growth, promotion and a generally profitable and pleasant state of affairs. Benefits and gratifying situations may arise from unexpected and surprising sources, with elders, relatives, superiors as well as strangers figuring in such happy and productive adventures. Property and investments should increase in value and security, and credit and finances expand, but in all shun extravagance.

A child born on this day should have much versatility and creative ability with success in unusual lines. Its possessions and standing are assured.

"DADDY'S GONE A-HUNTING!"

CONCERNING SULFONAMIDE DRUGS

Safe, But Effective Forms Are Sought

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I HAVE RECENTLY heard some interesting and undoubtedly authentic history about the origin and development of the sulfonamide.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Since drugs which have become so popular in the treatment of general infections during the last eight years.

For many years men tried to find the chemical which could be put in the body and which would kill germs without injuring the tissues. The first of these ever to be perfected was quinine. Then came the famous "magic bullet" of Ehrlich. But these all were used in parasitic diseases. The infecting germ was an animal and nothing valuable was discovered for cases where the germ is, as is mostly the case, a vegetable until 1932.

Protosil Announced

Then a German, Domagk at the I. G. Farbenindustrie, announced a drug called protosil which would kill streptococcal septicemia in mice. Domagk received the Nobel Prize in medicine in 1938, it is evident that the Germans were trying some shenanigan because they apparently intended to keep the chemical structure of protosil secret, and it was the French who not only worked out what the chemical formula was, but also improved on it so that it was a crystalline product known as sulfanilamide.

There is no doubt that the drug performs practical miracles. Beginning with streptococcal infections, it has been used in pneumonia and a great many bacterial diseases, and while it has some disagreeable toxic effects, it still does nearly everything that has been claimed for it.

Since its introduction sulfanilamide has been modified, trying to get compounds that are less toxic to the human being and more lethal to a germ, so that now we have sulfapyradine, sulfathiazole, sulfadiazine and sulfaguanidine. Each time one of these drugs is announced, it is tried out with the enthusiasm which belongs to the medical profession and is acclaimed as the best.

Toxic Nature of Drugs

We have come to understand the toxic nature of these drugs a little better and it would be wise to allow for them. I have a notion that a great many doctors are afraid to advise a patient not to take one of them because there is so much popular prejudice in favor of them and he is afraid he will lose out. But this is unfair to your patient because with a mild disease that is going to last only three or four days, the use of a drug which can possibly cause rather severe poisoning is injudicious, whereas if the patient has a serious, possibly fatal disease, it is justifiable to use any drug that has any hope of checking the disease.

Another feature of the use of the sulfonamide drugs that has come to grief is their application on a local wound surface. It has been found in such things as burns, for instance, that the actual action of the sulfonamide drug is to stop the growth factor both of germs and cells, and while it may kill off all the germs on a wound, it also stops the rapidity of wound healing. This was recently demonstrated once more in the severe burns that occurred among enlisted men and officers at Pearl Harbor.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

N. M.—Will you please advise in your column whether a nursing mother can follow a reducing diet such as your Lenten diet? I am very healthy, but find I am gaining too much weight while nursing the baby.

Answer: If a nursing mother is overweight, a reducing diet is very much in order because that is a particularly likely period for excessive overweight to be put on which is hard to remove later.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp to Dr. Logan Clendening, 238 E. 63d st., New York. THE STANDARD OIL CO. (OHIO)

WE'RE POSTED!

We mean we're complying with the new price ceiling legislation and everything in the store is plainly marked with the ceiling price and the retail price.

We're also proud of the fact that there were only two items out of over five hundred different items, in our store, that had to be re-marked to the lower March prices. We feel that this is proof of our conscientious desire to sell our customers the best merchandise at the "Lowest Possible Prices."

What does this mean to you?

It means that it is your right and privilege to seek out all prices on "Cost of Living Commodities" and that your dollar, in the months to come, will be worth as much as it was in March.

It also means (and to us this seems most important) that you will not be misled by spectacular sales in which the reduction is much more than is economically possible. In other words, this will force "Truth in Advertising" which legitimate stores have always stressed.

Come in and browse around our store, look over our ceiling prices and you can then determine the maximum price you will pay for an article whether you buy it now or three months from now.

U.S. Spending Money May Be Rationed

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 19.—The individual spending money of Americans may be rationed later, depending on developments, treasury officials indicated today but at least for the present such a plan has been abandoned to give President Roosevelt's seven-point anti-inflation program a trial.

A treasury spokesman and other officials said that the proposal for rationing individual spending money was considered by the treasury and other government agencies when surveys were being made of all kinds of anti-inflation possibilities before Mr. Roosevelt decided on his seven-point plan.

The program outlined by the President featured higher taxes, a $25,000 limit on individual incomes after taxes, overall price ceilings, wage stabilization, credit control, intensified war bond sales on a voluntary basis and modification of the farm parity formula to permit price regulation of farm products at parity instead of at 110 per cent of parity.

The treasury spokesman indicated he saw no prospect for revival of the plan but cautioned that later events might cause it to be given further study.

Ohio's Marblehead Peninsula

Famous Old Marblehead Lighthouse—In Service More than 120 Years

Marblehead Peninsula, entered from the west through Port Clinton and from the east over the Sandusky Bay bridge, is covered with beauty spots. On a 20-mile drive around the peninsula wonderful views are to be had of Lake Erie, Sandusky Bay, East harbor and the Islands. Along fringe of the peninsula are hundreds of cottages, camp and trailer sites available by the day, week or season. Lake Erie is noted for reef fishing. Numerous suitable boats with guides for this spot are for hire on the Peninsula. The rocky north shore is the natural habitat for small mouth black bass. From rowboats and the numerous docks perch, large mouth bass and grass pike are regularly landed. Sandusky Bay abounds in catfish, bullheads, perch and white bass. This and other vacation areas are depicted in a booklet, "Enjoy Yourself in Ohio," copy of which may be had by mailing request to the Ohio Development and Publicity Commission, Wyandotte building, Columbus.

This photo is one in a series depicting the beauty and grandeur of the Buckeye state.

POWER SHIFTS TO ALLIES IN EUROPE

Necessity of Offensive Action Underscored By Big Convoys

of United States soldiers, newly landed with their own tanks and artillery from a convoy almost as large as the greatest of 1918, reinforced earlier contingents in advanced training at Ulster bases today.

Equipped with millions of dollars worth of battle tools, they arrived amid public enthusiasm in Britain for opening an allied front against Germany in western Europe.

"This is the finest I've ever seen," commented a veteran British officer who witnessed the unloading.

Many of the youths are from middle western and north central states. Some already have served in the Pacific.

The convoy outfitted Axis submarines on the 2,400-mile voyage, its escort delivering thunderous depth charge attacks and its gun crews alert for aerial onslaughts that never came. The U. S. navy kept intact its record of never having lost a troopship.

Food awaited the men at a wharf shed—stewed meat, vegetables, pork and beans, slices of luncheon meat, pickles, jam, bread, pears, apricots and coffee.

Private Marvin O'Neal, who said he was "an Irishman from South Dakota"—the town of Philip, was the first enlisted man of the contingent to step ashore.

Unloading, screened by anti-aircraft guns, continued by day and by night.

Huge field guns were hoisted out of holds and rolled away. Ammunition cases were shifted. Tanks moved off under their own power.

"They're ready to go," shouted lean and sun-burned Capt. H. L. McWatters of Pittsburg, Texas, to a British major.

The Briton asked if there was anything he could do to help. "Nothing," the captain replied. "The boys will take care of everything."

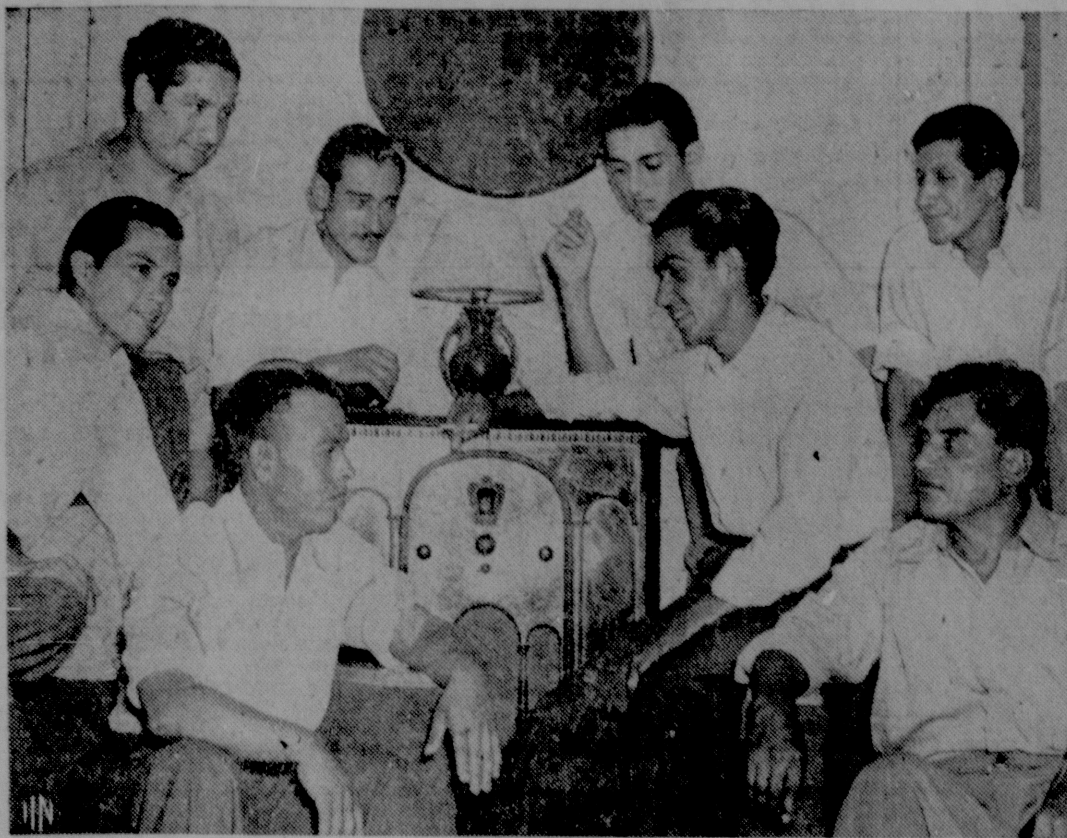

Arrested By Patrol

Charles Cashon, 18, of Canfield, arrested by the state patrol on a speeding charge, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Hugh Dickson at Canfield yesterday.

James Ballantine of Salem, charged with a similar offense by the patrol, drew a fine of $5 and costs in the mayor's court here.

Salem Trackmen End Season With 73-45 Win Over Alliance

SCULLION NETS 13 POINTS IN PACING QUAKER THINCLADS

Entriaken, Hagan, Ruffing Also Star; Joe Igro Leads Aviators

Sweeping the high jump and the pole vault, in addition to taking first place in five other events, the Salem High thinclads wound up their 1942 campaign with a 73-45 triumph over Alliance at Rolly stadium Monday afternoon.

Many of the Quaker contestants showed their best form of the year in either winning or placing in their respective events. Bob Scullion once more paced the team as he scored convincing wins in the shot, put and the 220-yard low hurdles and earned a tie for first place in the pole vault for a 13-point total.

Joe Igro, the Aviators' star sprinter and broad jumper, tallied 9 1/2 points to pace the losers. Igro looked best in the broad jump when he took the event with a leap of 20 feet 5 inches.

Frank "Flick" Entriaken of Salem tallied the same number of points on a win in the high hurdles, a second place in the low hurdles and a tie for first in the pole vault, as did Hagan, who won the 440, tied for first in the high jump and was a member of the mile relay team.

Show Power In Dashes
The Quakers also showed strength in the 440 and 880-yard dashes and the mile run. Darwin Charnesky, ace sophomore half-mile, clicked off his event in 2 minutes 8.8 seconds to win while Bill Shoop finished third after over-taking an Alliance runner on the turn. Shoop and Ken Wagner finished second and third, respectively, in the mile while Frank "Jock" Hagan and Art Scheib took first and third respectively in the 440.

Bob Ruffing came through with a win in the discus with a toss of 120 feet 2 inches, while Kleon gained a split for first place honors in the pole vault and Dick Greene and Gerald Bingham tied for first place in the high jump. Dick Boughton took third in the 100-yard dash and second in the 200-yard dash to help the Quaker cause, while Frank "Sneaky" Snyder and Bingham topped second and third in the broad jump.

The most interesting event of the meet was the mile relay race, which found both teams battling through the first three legs of the race with only a few yards between the contestants. Hagan ran the anchor lap and staved off a rally by the Alliance runner half way through their 440 tests to take the race going away.

All-Star Contests May Be Pushed Back

NEW YORK, May 19.—Night baseball has been banned in New York city for the duration of the war and now everybody is wondering what will become of the first all-star game scheduled for the Polo Grounds the night of Monday, July 6.

It would be difficult to assemble the cast for a day time game because many of the stars have to come from St. Louis and Chicago. Doubleheaders are scheduled in both cities for July 4 and 5.

President Ford Frick said he expected Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis to call an early meeting of the advisory council, which includes Frick and President Will Harridge of the American league, to consider the matter.

The winner of the game between the National and American league all-stars will oppose a team of army and navy stars at Cleveland Tuesday night, July 7. Wednesday has been made an open date in both major leagues to allow for postponements and one solution to the New York difficulty may be to push both all-star struggles back a day to Tuesday and Wednesday.

The night baseball ban, pronounced by Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine yesterday, wiped out 28 games scheduled by the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers.

NEWSIES SHELLACK JACKSONS BY 12-1 AS PHALANX LOSES

Numerous Misplays Ruin Games; Saxons Chalk Up Initial Win

The Salem News bounced back into the win column at Centennial park last night with a 12-1 shellacking of Jacksons. Phillips came up with another six-hit pitching masterpiece but his opponent, Johnny Hart, could not match it. Hart did not walk any runs across but walks put plenty of runners on the base paths and then scampered around on timely Newsie hits.

The News opened its drive in the first frame by smashing across four runs and from there on in it was just a matter of playing out the other six innings as far as the Jacksons were concerned. Jacksons came back in the first to score a lone tally and avert a shutout by a narrow margin.

The Jacksons appeared a bit jittery as they committed six errors afield, Ray McGaffick at shortstop being the main offender. Three misplays were charged to the Newsies also, but none came in a vital situation.

Julius Falk, Chuck Sweitzer "Wink" Miller and Ralph Moffett combined their talents for eight hits to pace the Newsies at the plate while Phillips permitted Jacksons no more than one safety to a man.

Putting on a three run rally in the sixth inning, the Saxons edged the Phalanx, 5-4, for their first win of the season. Pitchers Pauline and Bennett both hurled six-hit ball but six errors hurt the Phalanx cause plenty. Bennett helped throw away his own game in this respect, committing a pair. Wukotich was the other main offender with the same number.

No Saxon batter got more than one safe blow off the slants of Bennett but the Saxons bunched three hits to the best advantage to squeeze out their win. Sammy Drakulich and Bennett paced the fraternity men at the plate with two hits in four trips apiece.

Tonight's card will bring together two undefeated clubs in the first game, the Carroll Club and the Recreation while the Salem China and United Cigars will battle it out in the nightcap. Sal Guappone and Johnny Zines will probably be the opposing hurlers in the opener while Kenny Bruderly will likely face Orrie Wright in the second tilt.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 19—Mickey Owen's luck last year was not too good, especially in the World Series, where the Brooklyn catcher dropped a third strike that enabled the New York Yanks to win the game.

This year, however, he has been in the lineup 17 times and the Dodgers have won every game in which he caught.

THE BOSTON BRAVES' SLUGGING PITCHER, A .183 AVERAGE HITTER LAST YEAR, HE CLOUTED FOUR HOMERS IN FIVE STRAIGHT TIMES AT BAT THIS SEASON

HIS THREE CONSECUTIVE HOMERS IN A RECENT GAME WITH CHICAGO SET A MAJOR LEAGUE RECORD FOR PITCHERS

"CINCY WILL HALT BUMS"—McKECHNIE

BOSTON, May 19.—Except for Lippy Leo Durocher of the Dodgers—who couldn't do it anyway—you'd think now would be just the right time for National league managers to keep mum.

But not Manager Bill McKechnie of the sixth-place Cincinnati Reds, who claims his Redlegs have found themselves and will challenge Brooklyn for the lead.

"The Dodgers aren't as good as their record," the graying deacon explains. "It's just that the rest of us clubs have collapsed thus far in our tilts with the Brooks. I still get a headache every time I think of the two games we handed them at home last month."

Junior Thompson's one-hitter is the only Redleg victory in five tries at the Dodgers, who, by winning 10 of their last 11, are seven games ahead of the pack—a bigger margin than they had any time last year.

With a fifth of the season gone, the 1940 world champions are off to a poorer start than last year—nine games back of first, batting the league's lowest, and fielding the loop's worst with 50 errors in 30 games.

The Reds—the league's best fielding club in 1941—lost by errors four other games besides the two to Brooklyn. Shortstop Eddie Joost and Haas have averaged a misplay every 10 chances.

Germans Stage Mock
Invasions On Coast

(The author of this dispatch is an American newspaperman formerly stationed in Paris who is among the diplomats, correspondents and others being repatriated in exchange for Axis nationals from the United States).

By PHILIP WHITCOMB
(Written For The Associated Press)

LISBON, May 19.—Germany's army in occupied France, probably numbering between 400,000 and 600,000, is more active now than at any time since the Armistice of Compiegne two years ago.

Rehearsal invasions are staged daily on the French coasts.

A fleet of small boats sufficient to carry an invasion army was collected last month.

A ground organization has concealed hangars for 4,000 planes, according to general estimate — for 12,000 planes, in the opinion of one competent observer.

There has been a burst of activity in each of the five German organizations which provide the hundreds of thousands of men — the regular army garrisons, coast defense forces, a skeleton invasion force, an air defense force and raiding force and divisions resting or being reconstructed.

With Nazi authorities vainly trying to coordinate these forces, a conflicting organization is the economic staff with three objectives: To get the maximum French output of civil and war goods, to obtain the most possible for Germany and to locate and acquire all key businesses in France.

These modern carpet-baggers wear uniforms and engage in a continual battle with four other German organizations in occupied France — the army, propaganda, gestapo and embassy.

In comparison with Germany and other warring nations, the French are eating and enjoying recreation.

Politically, the general tendency is to wait for a definite turn in the war rather than try the impossible job now of breaking the armistice terms.

Toward the new chief of government, Pierre Laval, the attitude is one of deferred judgment until something happens but the public generally is pleased that Marshal Petain has given command of all France's land, sea and air forces to Admiral Jean Darlan, keeping them from Laval.

New York Lights Would Aid Enemy, Newsmen Say

NEW YORK, May 19.—Millions of lights from the New York metropolitan area continue to throw glow into the sky, etching ships against a perfect backdrop to make them targets for the enemy at night.

This was the conclusion reached by newsmen last night after cruising several miles out to sea from New York harbor to observe the results of drastic new regulations designed to lessen the city's skyward illumination.

An army officer who has watched the progress of successive attempts to decrease the lighting effect pressed belief that some strides had been made although much remained to be done.
